CRAZED LOVER MURDERS GIRL

After His Attentions Were Rejected.

SHOT DOWN WHILE SEATED

At Her Organ Near Hour of Midnight—Murderer
Tried Suicide.

CHRISTIAN COUNTY TRAGEDY

Hopkinsville, Ky., May 21.—Herbert Cobb, aged 22 years, murdered his sweetheart, Miss Ella Cravens, an attractive 18-year-old girl, Saturday at midnight in the parlor of her father's residence, two miles north of this city. He was captured early this morning by Sheriff Johnson, after he had made an unsuccessful effort to commit suicide.

There is a bullet hole in his breast, but physicians say that the wound is not dangerous. Miss Cravens was shot four times and instantly killed.

Cobb is a tailor's assistant. For several months he had been paying Miss Cravens devoted attention, and had begged her to marry him. While liking him as a friend, she had discouraged his suit.

A few days ago Cobb told a companion that if she did not marry him, he "would fix it so she couldn't marry anybody else."

About 11 o'clock Saturday night he tried to borrow a pistol from several persons, telling them that he had business to do with it. He had been drinking, but did not appear drunk. He finally got a revolver from a saloon man. Hiring a horse and buggy from a livery stable, he drove out of town and nothing more was seen of him until the time of the tragedy.

Miss Cravens, who had charge of a department in Klein's Main-street dry goods store, went home about 11:30 o'clock. She was seated at an organ in her parlor, playing and talking to her younger sister. Hearing a step in the yard, she looked toward the open window and saw Cobb's face peering in.

"You frightened me, Herbert," she said. "Come in."

The young man entered the room and the younger girl went out. In a few moments four shots were heard in quick succession and a moment later the alarming of the front door.

Members of the household found Miss Cravens lying dead on the floor. There were bullet holes in her breast, throat, side and arm. Sheriff Johnson, who lives nearby, was notified. He and Deputy Sheriff Cbillon discovered Cobb's hat in the front yard, and his horse still hitched at the gate. Several hours later they found the murderer walking in a field near the home of his father, a North Christian farmer.

Cobb was brought to jail and his wound in the left side was dressed by a physician. The bullet he had fired into his own body struck a rib. He had thrown the pistol away. He talked in a crazy way to the officers and claimed to know nothing of the killing of Miss Cravens.

This morning the victim's sister visited the prisoner at the jail in the hope of finding out why he had committed the murder. He admitted shooting the girl, but would say nothing else.

Miss Cravens was a daughter of Job Cravens, a farmer. She was a young woman held in high esteem by everyone who knew her.

CAUGHT AND MUST PAY PENALTY FOR MURDER

The Calhoun Star says: John McElmore, formerly of this county and who was arrested near here some time ago upon information received from the police officials of an Arkansas city and turned over to the officers of that place, must expiate his misdeed upon the scaffold. Information has been received in this city that the death penalty has been given him in his trial for murder.

McElmore murdered a man in the wilds of Arkansas and when arrested, broke jail and fled to Kentucky. He was arrested near here through his brother-in-law, who brought him to Calhoun and turned him over to the sheriff, claiming the reward for his capture. McElmore's victim left a wife and six small children and the murderer's only regret was for them. McElmore formerly resided in McLean county.

AGED RELATIVE OF DANIEL BOONE DIES

Tompkinsville, Ky., May 18.—Mrs. Polly Boone, aged 104 years, died at the home of her son, Samuel Boone, of infirmities incident to age. She was closely related to the noted pioneer Daniel Boone. She was blind and had been for about five years, but was active and had a good memory until recently. She spent her life in Kentucky except a few years in Tennessee, just across the State line. She never saw a train in her life and was never on board a steamboat. Mrs. Boone was the oldest woman in Southern Kentucky.

She is survived by her son and three sets of grandchildren, which number about fifty.

A Treat Next Saturday Night.

The people of Hartford and vicinity should not forget the illustrated lecture at the court house next Saturday night. Mr. Hunter C. Leake, the lecturer, comes by invitation but at his own expense and will charge nothing for his services, contributing the part he plays in the matter to the Hartford Methodist Church. He should have an appreciative audience and a crowded house.

The lecture will be interesting, educational and edifying. His subject will be "Alaska," and those who go will be both pleased and surprised at the benefit of their attendance and pleasure to themselves.

The general admission will be 25c, children 15c.

WIFE SAVES HUSBAND FROM WATERY GRAVE

Owensboro, Ky., May 20.—Hut for the appearance of his wife and Mrs. John Highland, George Lee, a saw-log man of Green river, near Basket Station, would probably have drowned yesterday morning when he was thrown into the river by the turning of a log. He was caught between two logs in such a position that he could not free himself, and the two women, who had rowed into the river to haul a boat, saved his life.

Warren Kininmonth Dead.

Mr. Warren Kininmonth, one of the best and most favorably known business men of the Green river country, died at his residence in Rochester, Ky., last Friday morning at 3:30 o'clock, of paralysis, superinduced by blood clot on the brain. After funeral services his remains were interred in the family burying grounds near Rochester, Saturday, in the presence of a large circle of friends and relatives.

Dr. J. W. Taylor, of Hartford, who had formerly been his family physician, was summoned to Rochester by telephone last Thursday afternoon, and on reaching his bedside about 9 o'clock that night, soon found that he was beyond all medical aid.

The deceased, who was in the sixty-fourth year of his age, leaves one brother, Mr. Silas Kininmonth, with whom he had been associated in business for many years, together with a host of friends, to mourn his death.

Mr. Kininmonth, who had the reputation of being "the poor man's friend," will be greatly missed in the Green river section.

PROPOSED SOMETHING TO "COOL" MEMBERS

Washington, May 19.—With the mercury near the 100 mark to-day, the Senate Committee in the District of Columbia voted to report favorably a bill providing penalties against citizens who fail to remove snow or sleet from sidewalks.

"To permit ice and snow to remain on the sidewalks of the city," said Senator Dillingham, author of the bill, as he vigorously piled a palm-leaf fan, "is indefensible and the practice should be punished."

The greatest parade in the history of the organization marked the close of the Confederate Veteran reunion at Little Rock, Ark., Thursday. Kentucky veterans took an important part in the pageant.

DREAM HAUNTED FARMER HUSTED

Who Sent His Wife Away
And Then

INDUCED CHILD TO SHOOT HIM

Tragic Act of Man Apparently Crazed by Unknown
Hallucination.

DEATH ENVELOPED MYSTERY

Greenwich, Conn., May 20.—A strange story is told here regarding the death of Fred Husted, a farmer, near here.

Husted was 46 years old and owned a valuable farm of 80 acres. Wednesday afternoon he awoke with a cry from a sound sleep and seemed to be in a daze. He told his wife that he had experienced a horrible dream, but would not tell her of its nature.

Husted directed that she should go to the home of Charles Young, a neighbor, and ask him to do an errand in the city. Mrs. Husted put her baby in his crib upstairs and left the other children playing in the garden.

As soon as the wife was out of sight, Husted called his young son, Lester. By the time the boy reached the house Husted had placed a double-barreled shotgun across a table. Kneeling so that he looked directly into the muzzle, Husted told his little boy, who could hardly have raised the heavy arm to his shoulder, to pull the trigger. Lester was afraid to obey.

"It is all right, son," Lester says his father told him. "The gun is not loaded. You pull the trigger, for I want to hear how it sounds."

The boy pulled the triggers but kept his thumb on the hammers so they fell lightly upon the firing pins. There was no explosion and the father rebuked his son for failing to obey him, and again cocked the gun.

Placing himself in position, Husted said: "Now pull the trigger, son. Father wants to hear how it sounds. The gun is not loaded."

Lester pulled one of the triggers and his father fell dead from the effects of the full charge of heavy shot which had entered the side of his head.

It was the opinion of physicians and others that Husted's dream had taken such a firm hold on him that he enacted it just as it had come to him in the vision.

Champion Ice-Cream Eater. Chester, Ill., May 19.—This city lays claim to having the champion ice cream eater of the State. On a wager, Henry J. Heine, owner of a hack line, yesterday ate one gallon of ice cream in eighteen minutes. He went about his business again without feeling any ill effects.

MEXICAN PEACE PACT IS SIGNED

Agreement Formally Ratified at Juarez.

MEANS END OF REVOLUTION

In the Republic—Diaz and Carrol Are Pledged to Resign.

NEWS FLASHED COMMANDERS

Juarez, Mex., May 21.—Officially designated representatives of the Mexican Government and the revolutionists at 10 o'clock to-night signed a peace agreement at the customhouse here, intended to end the hostilities that have been waged in Mexico for the last six months.

Though covering only the principal points negotiated thus far, the agreement practically records the concessions by the Government of those demands, which starting on November 20 last, resulted in the armed revolution in Mexico. Telegrams announcing the signing of the agreement were dispatched throughout Mexico to revolutionary and Federal leaders alike.

Constitutional restrictions prevented the inclusion in the agreement of the fact that the rebels will be permitted to suggest to various State Legislatures the names of Provisional Governors, and likewise the fact that six of the eight members of the new Cabinet have been chosen by the revolutionists, but the agreement records that President Diaz and Vice President Corral will resign and that the Government is to concentrate its attention on desired reforms.

In the same room where President Taft and President Diaz met two years ago, where the portrait of President Taft in silent solicitude looked down on the Peace Commissioners—the portrait of President Diaz, which once hung beside the Taft picture having long since been removed,—peace was formally declared.

The actual signing of the agreement took place under most extraordinary circumstances to-night on the steps of the customhouse. When the peace commissioners arrived they found the door of the customs house locked and no one there to let them in. Accordingly they gathered on the steps of the building, and while newspaper men held matches, fountain pens were produced and the document signed.

Four automobiles turned their searchlights on the scene, and when the signatures were affixed the commissioners of both sides embraced joyfully, while a small crowd that had collected shouted "Vive La Paz."

COURT HELD IN THE OPEN AT HARRDSBURG

Harrdsburg, Ky., May 18.—Circuit Judge L. L. Walker adjourned court from the temporary court rooms in the upper story of the opera house, which has been used for this purpose since the old court house was condemned, to the yard in front of the old court house this morning, after Col. Gaither, an attorney, had fainted from the oppressive heat. Judge Walker's seat was prepared under one of the famous old elms, and comfortable chairs were placed for the attorneys and spectators. A number of minor cases were heard, after which his honor treated everyone to ice cold lemonade and adjourned this term of court.

TREE FROM EACH COUNTY —A GOOD PROPOSITION

A plan will be suggested to the State Capitol Commission by Hon. Frank P. James, State Auditor, to set aside one day as "tree day," when each county in the State will be invited to come to Frankfort and plant a tree on the capitol grounds. The landscape architect in charge wanted an appropriation of $27,000 to plant trees on the grounds. It is not available; in fact, there is no more money that can be used on improvements around the capitol. Mr. James thinks it would be a saving to the State and also that the idea would appeal to the people of the State, to have each county plant a tree to be known by the name of that county. This would give the capitol at least 119 trees and each county could plant more than one if desired. Schools and societies also would be invited. —[Winchester Democrat.]

KENTUCKY JURIST HAS BEEN 33 YEARS ON BENCH

The oldest member of the Supreme Court of the United States, both in years and in point of service, John Marshall Harlan, of Kentucky, stands in a class by himself to-day as the most progressive member of America's highest tribunal. He will be seventy-eight years old on June 1, and has served as an associate justice of the Supreme Court for thirty-three years.

With vigor most extraordinary Justice Harlan took his stand in opposition to the other eight members of the court and contended that no concessions should be allowed monopolies; that the decision in the lower court in the case of the Standard Oil Company should be affirmed without amendment. Harlan denounced with irony and in bitter terms the action of the chief justice and the associate justices in declaring that "restraint of trade" must be "unreasonable" to come within the meaning of the anti-trust law. He declared the court was legislating, not interpreting the law.

The aged jurist has been in failing health, despite robust appearance, for many months.

REGARDING FISH VALUE —CAN'T UNDERSTAND IT

George Downs went fishing Monday, and an account of his trip may be summed up as follows: Expenses—bucket of minnows, 50 cents; worms, grasshoppers and other bait, $2.50; day's work, $2.00; lost one $25 seventeen-jewel Elgin watch and one $10 job and charm; tackle, $1.50; cost of rig, $2. Total expenses, $44.25. Captured, after exciting chase, one speckled perch, weight 3 1/2 pounds; two sunfish, weight 1 1/2 ounces. George says he can't see how these Tennessee fishermen haul buffalo to Murray and sell them for seven cents the pound.

SEVENTY-CENT JUDGMENT RENDERED IN A SUIT

Henderson, Ky., May 20.—The smallest judgment rendered in Circuit Court here in a number of years past was in the verdict of the jury to-day in a suit between W. E. Compton and W. B. Eble for the settlement of their joint business affairs of several years. Two hundred dollars and seventy-five cents was the amount asked for in the suit, and the judgment was for seventy cents.

Advice From An Old Friend.

Wetumka, Okla., May 19, 1911. Editors Hartford Herald, Hartford, Ky. Gentlemen:—You will find enclosed p. o. money order for one dollar, for which please set up my paper from May 20, 1911, to May 20, 1912.

We can not do without The Herald. It is a welcome visitor from our old home. I hope you Kentucky boys will be good and elect a Governor this fall. Of course the United States can and is doing without a President, but it does look hard for as good a people as Kentuckians to do without a Governor.

Long live The Herald!

Tobacco Juice Fatal to Fish. Carlisle, Ky., May 20.—Tobacco juice is causing fish to die in great numbers in Brushy Fork Creek, below the burned section of this city. Investigation was made as to the cause of the fish dying in large numbers and it was found that tobacco juice has been carried by water from the burning tobacco in the Booth warehouse back into the creek and caused the fish to die. Over 150,000 pounds of tobacco was destroyed in the Booth warehouse.

CHARGES BURNS AND EMPLOYES

With Dynamiting to Create Sentiment.

BLOW AT UNIONISM ALLEGED

National Erectors' Association
Men Accused by Confessed Helper.

SOME SENSATIONAL CHARGES

Pittsburg, May 20.—James Elliott, of 2349 Bedford avenue, a structural iron worker, who says that he has been employed by Detective W. J. Burns, of the National Detective Agency, made an affidavit to-night at the Labor Temple before the officers of the Structural Iron Workers' Union, in which he implicated Detective Burns, Walter Drew, a New York attorney and secretary of the National Erectors' Association; John Fisher, local representative of the National Erectors' Association; and William Thunney, owner of a local detective agency, in dynamiting plots.

The sum of Elliott's confession is that Detective Burns was employed by the National Erectors' Association to destroy property belonging to them which had been erected by nonunion labor and do it in such a way that it would appear to have been done by union men.

The object of all the dynamiting cases was to arouse the people of the country in such a way that the structural iron workers' union would be injured. His statement is that the National Erectors' Association, through Detective Burns, is responsible for almost all the dynamite outrages that have been committed throughout the country for the last three years.

Elliott says that he never saw any of the plots executed, but that it was his work to show where to place the dynamite for the worst effects.

Elliott was taken to the Central police station by Detective Ranch, where he is being detained until some further investigation can be made of his story. Following the statement at the labor temple, Elliott made another one at the police station covering the same ground.

The first statement was made before William J. Kelly, president of the Iron City Trade Council; H. A. Ashton; A. L. Collins, secretary of the Structural Iron Workers' Union; and H. W. Leggett, vice president of the International Association of National Bridge and Structural Iron Workers.

KENTUCKY'S BIRD LAW SHOULD BE EFFECTIVE

The Kentucky Statute, Section 1946, reads thus: "No person shall at any time catch, kill or pursue with such intent, or have in possession after same has been caught or killed, any thrush, mockingbird, meadow lark, finch, martin, swallow, woodpecker, flicker, oriole or other song or insectivorous bird."

Around many of our homes in this city these beautiful birds are a continuous delight; in some parts of the city the mockingbirds not only delight you by day, but sing you to sleep after your day's work is done. To destroy one of these birds is an act of vandalism that should not be overlooked by our officials. —[Morganfield Sun.]

BOYS PLAY WITH GUN; ONE SHOT THROUGH NECK

Princeton, Ind., May 19.—Charles Catlett, fourteen years old, is dying to-day with a bullet through his neck as the result of accidental discharge of a twenty-two caliber target rifle in the hands of Vesner Drury, a fifteen-year-old boy. The boys were at the store of the Drury boy's father, playing with the gun, when the accident happened.

JUAREZ FORGETS HORRORS OF WAR

In the Great National Bull Fight.

THE PACIFIED CITY RESUMES

Its Bloody Pastime With Old-
Time Vim, Amid Usual Scenes.

PESOS WERE VERY PLENTIFUL

Juarez, Mexico, May 19.—Abiding peace yesterday re-entered the hearts of the people of Juarez. Forgetting their looted, bullet-shattered homes, and the blackened stains that still mark the place where some insurgent or Federal soldier died, they flocked to the bull ring. For yesterday, the national pastime, the bull fight, was resumed in Juarez.

Four bulls were marked for slaughter, and a celebrated toreador was billed to appear. The pesos taken in at the gate were to be devoted to the needs of the families of insurgents who had lost their lives, and to the destitute wounded.

Pesos were plentiful. They came from the pockets of insurgents. Hundreds of them, still bearing their rifles and revolvers still entwined with many cartridge belts, occupied the higher sun-blistered seats. On the shady side, close down to the arena, were many Americans, including not a few women. Two bands played music sweet to Mexican ears, while continually rang the shouts of the enthusiasts on the bleachers.

Gen. Pascual Orozco acted as master of ceremonies. To him the toreador bowed and asked permission to kill. And toward him were directed the shouts of hundreds of his companions in arms.

After the first killing a number of Americans left. Long before that, any resemblance an American might have traced to the crowds at a baseball game had gone. The horses were still untouched, however, and their pleaders brought them out for the second bull.

After the toreador had killed the second bull, a peon with shovel and sand cleared away the blood that had furnished amusement to the crowd.

LAMBS SHIPPED OUT OF STATE MUST BE DIPPED

Frankfort, Ky., May 18.—During the next three months Kentucky will place on the market over 800,000 lambs, and Dr. A. J. Payne, of the United States bureau of animal industry stated yesterday that before these lambs are shipped out of the State they must undergo a dipping of lime and sulphur or one of the tobacco dips.

The coal tar and cresote dips are barred by the State Livestock Sanitary Board, and owners who expect to ship lambs from this State must have a certificate of inspection issued by the county livestock inspector setting forth that the lambs have been dipped in one of the preparations used for official dipping. Of the 800,000 lambs to be placed on the market, Dr. Payne said that only about 5,000 would be slaughtered in this State, the remainder being placed on the market in other States.

A MEMORABLE NUMBER WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION

The June Woman's Home Companion is interesting and useful in a great variety of ways. One of its splendid features, particularly entertaining and valuable at the present time, is a description of a large number of "safe and sane" celebrations of the Fourth of July which actually took place last year. These reports are full of ideas and suggestions which, as fast as they are put into effect, will save legs, arms and lives. And the great point is that the children who enjoyed these celebrations had a better time than they ever had in the old way. The new forms of entertainment that have been devised, and that are reported in this month's Companion, are really amazing in extent and ingenuity.

There are six other special articles in the number. One of these is on "The Etiquette of Weddings." Another is on Infant Mortality. All of the articles are full of practical suggestions. One very interesting article is called "My Happiest Vacation."

The fiction in this month's Companion is notable. There is a splendid story by Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, the last piece of work written by this famous author shortly before her death a few months ago. Other stories are contributed by Marion Hill, C. N. and A. M. Williamson, Zona Gale, Fannie Heaslip Lea and others.

IN LABOR'S BUSY REALM

A government institute for the promotion of the silk industry is to be established in Italy.

Seventy labor unions have become affiliated with the California State Federation of Labor since last October.

Every fourth woman in New York City is a wage-earner. Of this number only 4 per cent. earn more than $6 a week.

In the State of Washington the compensation act will go into effect October 1 and the woman's eight-hour work day on June 10.

The maintenance of way men of the Canadian Northern railway have been granted an increase in their pay amounting to 14 per cent.

It is reported that 1,000 mill men joined the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners within two weeks recently at Oshkosh, Wis.

Toronto (Ontario) stage employees have petitioned the managers of the local theaters for an increase of wages. Several conferences have been held.

The new button workers' union at Muscatine, Ia., is steadily increasing its membership and bids fair to become one of the strong local unions in Iowa.

Members of the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants' Union have commenced to advocate San Francisco, Cal., for the 1915 convention of the union.

According to statistics compiled by the wood workers' union in Germany, the average hours of 211,000 work people were fifty-seven per week, while 49,601 worked less than fifty-four hours.

The present membership of the International Longshoremen's Association in the United States and Canada is 22,000 and the growth has been 8,000 in the past two years.

French laundry workers organized recently at San Francisco. The work for organizing is being carried on under the supervision of the Steam Laundry Workers' Union of that city.

There are about 28,000 co-operative associations in Germany, with more than 4,000,000 members; and these, with their families, represent nearly one-third of the total population.

The federation of trade unions connected with the building industry in France has decided that bodies which form it shall no longer take part in any building operations connected with prisons.

THE NEWSPAPER AND ITS MISSION

Touching Religious Affairs of Country.

IS GREAT AID TO CHURCHES

In the Dissemination of Moral Sentiment Among the People.

EDITORIALS ARE LAY SERMONS

That the clergymen appreciate the influence of newspapers as keenly as any class of professional men in this country is evident from the frequency with which they allude to them in their sermons. Here is what the Rev. F. Stanley Powles, of Milwaukee, told his congregation on a recent Sunday evening:

"We as citizens of the metropolis of Wisconsin do not half appreciate what our newspapers are doing for us. We criticize, when nine cases out of ten we ought to give them credit for the effectiveness of their work in molding public opinion. Cooperation and not condemnation should be our policy. It exerts much power for good, and if the church of to-day is looking forward to the church of to-morrow to be a factor for good, it must acknowledge this in every phase of life."

"Our press does exert a moral influence, and many of its editorials are splendid lay sermons. Its exposing graft and denouncing crime and unscrupulous political schemes, as it now does, is proof of itself that it is decidedly favorable to morality. If the public demands flaring headlines of crimes and debauchery, the newspapers will publish them. Don't blame the press for what you yourself take an active part in. The church flays the Sunday newspaper, when its success is made what it is by the patronage of members of the Christian church."

"The press has its faults. It makes sad mistakes in many things, and at times forgets the real wants of our city. We do not need warnings at all times, and in this particular I feel that our city papers create a wrong impression."

"A clean press means a clean city, and to obtain this we should not denounce but co-operate in raising the standard. We as Christians do not familiarize ourselves with the actual needs, and then see to it that things are improved. We sit back and decry our city press and try our utmost to make our denunciation effective. This only widens the breach between press and church, and nothing is gained. Our Milwaukee press is affecting the morals of our great city, and in my opinion rightly."

"When our clergy fully realize that co-operation, and not denunciation, is needed to improve humanity, then shall we appreciate what the press is doing for our city. We have not an editor in our city but who is willing to co-operate with us in making his paper one of power for good if we show ourselves to be in the right attitude for harmony."

Do Ghosts Haunt Swamps?
No, never. It's foolish to fear fancied evil, when there are real and deadly perils to guard against in swamps and marshes, bayous, and lowlands. These are the malarial germs that cause ague, chills and fever, weakness, aches in the bones and muscles and may induce deadly typhoid. But Electric Filters destroy and cast out these vicious germs from the blood. "Three bottles drove all the malaria from my system," wrote Wm. Pretwell, of Lucania, N. C., "and I've had fine health ever since." Use this safe, sure remedy only. 50c at James H. Williams.

NURSING AS A CAREER— FREE TRAINING PROVIDED

It is said that nursing is one of the most inviting fields of human service and that its financial return surpasses any other occupation open to young women. It develops all the native graces of womanhood and leads the way to positions of trust and influence. The demand for more nurses is a world-wide call.

The Philadelphia School for Nurses, located in Philadelphia, Pa., has undertaken to meet this demand by offering free scholarships to young women in all parts of the country. Room, board, laundering, incidental expenses, special financial assistance and railroad fare home on completion of the course, are provided. Length of course, two years. Also a Special Short Course

WORKING PRISONERS ON PUBLIC ROADS

The Law Gives County Judge and Jailer the Power
To Do So

The county judge and the jailer of Warren county have begun the experiment of working jail prisoners on the roads. The first week's work was devoted to quarrying stone and in the five days during which the seven able-bodied prisoners labored, about $75 worth of stone was turned out. Later this will be crushed and applied to the roads wherever it is needed.

The laws gives the county judge and jailer the right to work the prisoners on the roads and it is a law that should be taken advantage of in every county where there is any considerable number of prisoners. In counties like Warren, for instance, where the jail population sometimes is large, the employment of the prisoners in making roads or in getting out road material, represents a big saving to the county treasury. The roads have to be maintained and prisoners in the jail also have to be maintained, whether in idleness or otherwise. Jail sentences have no terrors for a large class of offenders. If, in addition to the imprisonment, they were put at hard labor, the results would be better for the prisoners and also for the county.

To some of those who break the laws a term in jail means little more than holiday. Others, there is reason for believing, would prefer the outdoor employment to the monotony of employment in a prison cell. It is scarcely worth while to say that manual labor in the open air would inure to the physical benefit of jail inmates. Most of our Kentucky jails are anything but ideal from a sanitary point of view. Prison life yields fruitfully of tuberculosis and other diseases and there should be a humane as well as an economical side to this problem of dealing with prisoners.

On the face of it there does not seem to be much sense in feeding and lodging a man for a period of days or weeks or months to secure the "payment" of a fine. It is much more sensible to put the prisoner at work on the roads, since thereby he will pay for his "board and keep" and at the same time accomplish something for his personal welfare and for the general good.—[Cincinnati Journal.]

WILSON HAILED AS THE LEADER

Who Shall Head the Democratic Hosts

IN THEIR MARCH TO VICTORY

His Trip Through the Far West Creates Strong 1912 Sentiment.

MUCH ASSURANCE OF SUPPORT

The warmth of the reception given to Governor Wilson by the people of Los Angeles and Southern California has exceeded even the enthusiastic welcomes which he received at Kansas City and at Denver. Governor Wilson left last night for San Francisco, after a conference with the leaders of the Democratic party in this end of the State, taking with him the assurance that this section of the Pacific Coast is his to do as he pleases with.

While Governor Wilson has not as yet avowed himself publicly a candidate for the Presidential nomination, he has been accepted as such as every point that he has visited since leaving Princeton on May 3, and it is no exaggeration to say that the expressions of public esteem which have been accorded him make it clear that he is the man whom the West regards as being the Moses to lead the Democratic party to victory in 1912.

These were the sentiments expressed by Democratic leaders in Kansas City, in the very heart of Williams Jennings Bryan's own territory. They were expressed by men who traveled through Nebraska and who welcomed him at various stops along the line.

During the three-day stop in Denver, Democrats identified with all of the factions into which Colorado Democracy is split gave him assurances of their earnest and undivided support.

The Wilson sentiment in Denver, as in Kansas City, had been strong before his visits. Personal contact with the man soon crystallized the earlier good impressions which the people had of him, and he left Denver with an active organization to work in his behalf already under way. Along the route from Denver to Los Angeles, Governor Wilson was also acclaimed as a favorite in the Presidential race. At Albuquerque, N. M., where he stopped off for half an hour, a crowd of more than 1,000 had turned out to welcome him and to hear him deliver a brief address. It was the first time he had ever traveled farther West than Denver. There, too, he was assured that the Democrats of New Mexico regarded him as the man who should head the ticket next year.

But all of the enthusiasm and interest displayed further East paled before the welcome which Los Angeles and Pasadena gave him. Perhaps the most significant thing about Southern Colorado's greeting was the assurance which came to him from hundreds of men that he would not only have the support of the united Democracy of this section, but that he alone of all men who have been proposed or suggested as Democratic Presidential candidates, would win the votes of the entire progressive Republican element. And there are very few, of the other kind of Republicans left in California.—[Los Angeles Cor. Baltimore Sun.]

THE EDITOR'S DILEMMA—HE FINDS A WAY OUT

The man who writes the editorials for a paper the size of this is often at his wit's end to find proper subjects, says the Winchester News. He advises the President, his cabinet and Congress; he approves or criticizes the chief magistrate of the State. He even invades the foreign field and tells what Diaz ought to do in Mexico and why the German Kaiser is unpopular.

But his strong forte is local subjects. If he has no opinions, he is tolerated. If he takes sides on a live topic, he is patted on the back by some and is anathema to others. And the local field is more limited. He cannot write every day on good roads, or the school board, or paving the streets. His readers would soon weary of a single string.

We have tried to evolve a subject. We have appealed to the office force and their collective mind was as blank as the editor's own. So we decided to write about nothing in particular and let it go at that.

A Question.

"We know where we are to-day," said the orator, "but who can tell where we will be to-morrow?"

"That's right," said a man in the audience. "My wife's thinking of moving, too."

A SHORT HISTORY OF THE "BEN DAVIS" APPLE

First Grown in the Free State of Butler—Whom Named After.

The Bowling Green Messenger says:

The Ben Davis apples were first grown by the Rev. Ben Davis in the county of Butler, State of Kentucky, who was the paternal grandfather after whom our worthy citizen, the Hon. James Davis Hines, of Bowling Green, was named, and who was either the son or grandson of Benjamin Davis, of the county of Culpeper, State of Virginia, who held a lease on the ground on which the present town of Culpeper now stands, for the record reads as follows:

"In February, 1759, Act of the General Assembly of the Colony of Virginia, established the town of Fairfax (now Culpeper) on a high and pleasant situation in the county of Culpeper, where the court house now stands and set apart thirty acres of Robert Coleman's land to be laid off in lots by the trustees, Wm. Green, Phillip Clayton, Nat Pendleton and William Williams. "This land was held by Benjamin Davis, lessee of Robt. Coleman, who was permitted to hold his houses and have one-fifth of his rent deducted." Hence the name of Davis and Coleman streets—the former of which is the municipal thoroughfare of the town to this good day.

Without doubt, on account of the annoyance and discomfort resulting from the enforced cancellation of the above lease, Benjamin Davis did as so many other sons of Culpeper have since done—came to Kentucky and with him came the apple seed that has made his name famous over the United States. The State of Missouri has some 30,000,000 apple trees, of which seventy-five per cent., equal to twenty-two and one-half million, are Ben Davis. While the above apple is a beauty to behold, it is a disappointment to the palate—having evidently lost some of its many good qualities, as so frequently occurs when a change is made from one soil and climate to another. Still, it is on account of its very handsome appearance, a fine seller and to those who know no better, it is all that is required of an apple.

For soreness of the muscles, whether induced by violent exercise or injury, Chamberlain's Liniment is excellent. This liniment is also highly esteemed for the relief it affords in cases of rheumatism. Sold by all druggists.

OUR BIBLE IS A BOOK OF WONDERS

A Library of 66 Different Volumes,

WRITTEN BY 40 OR 50 WRITERS

At Widely Different Periods of Time—Many Helped In Work.

A GLANCE AT GREATEST WORK

The Bible is not a book. It is a library of 66 different books, written in its present form by 40 or 50 different writers, but contributed to by many more. Its earliest book—the Book of the Covenant, contained in the present Book of Exodus—was written 10 or 12 centuries before Christ; the Gospel of John, one of the latest, was written at the close of the first or the beginning of the second century after Christ. Thus for not less than 1,000 or 1,200 years was this library in process of formation. It contains all that is best in the literature of an ancient people which has survived the wrecks of time. In it are found history, biography, law, both political and ecclesiastical; fiction, poetry, drama, political ethics, practical theology. Art, music and science are conspicuously absent, as is philosophy, except in the latter portion of the New Testament, where it is philosophy used for practical purposes and applied to practical problems.

To specify more in detail: Genesis contains the prehistoric traditions of this people, rewritten by an unknown prophet, probably as an introduction to the collection; the next four books are a collection of the laws of this people as they were gradually formed during a period of centuries of their national life; the books of history which follow are compilations from pre-existing materials, and it is possible now to distinguish to some extent these sources of the compilation coming out clearly in the parallel but independent narratives of Kings and Chronicles; Job is what Prof. Gennep has well called it, an "epic of the inner life"; the Psalms are a collection of religious hymns, some of which were used in the temple service, others in the synagogues, still others for private devotion; Proverbs and Ecclesiastes are books of ethical culture, which almost entirely ignore both the theological doctrines and the ecclesiastical institutions of the people; the Song of Songs is a love drama, one of the earliest as it is one of the most beautiful in the world's literature, and the prophetic books which follow are collections or addresses which may be compared to the political addresses of the modern moral reformers and the sermons of the modern practical preachers.

The New Testament contains four biographies of Jesus of Nazareth, largely compiled from previous oral and documentary material; a history of the beginning of the apostolic churches; letters from evangelists to the infant churches, and a book of dream literature written to encourage faith and hope in the church in a period of bitter persecution. But they are all, from the first chapter of Genesis to the last chapter of Revelation, records of human experiences. They are written not by amanuenses, inscribing at dictation something which they could not have learned except by miraculous information, but by men of like passions as we ourselves are, writing down what they have seen and felt, and writing it down that their readers may see and feel the same life truths. The Bible is a library of characteristically human experience.—[The Outlook.]

ABOLISHING THE COOK—CAN WE AFFORD TO DO IT?

Let the cook tremble. The end of her reign may be at hand. The help problem may be solved. It all depends upon the accuracy of Doctor Robert Bell's diagnosis, announced at the Simple Life Conference in London. He says we should eat only uncooked food, that not only meats but the "natural" foods, fruits and vegetables should be served raw. Listen to him:

Man is the only animal who cooks his food. Among wild animals we don't find disease, we don't find decayed teeth, we don't find cancer. It is only in the animals that come in contact with men that we find disease.

Nor is freedom from disease the only benefit from eating uncooked food, according to the doctor. As a consequence we will live to greater ages. The "natural food" countries, Scandinavia, Hungary and Bulgaria, he says, are overrun by centenarians, Bulgaria having nearly 4,000, compared with only 7 in pork-eating Germany. His reasons for not cooking food are that in its natural state it contains three times the nutritive value of cooked food. Therefore, we have to eat three times as much and give our digestive organs three times as much work. He neglects, strangely enough, the even more important argument that we have to foot a bill three times as large. Perhaps this is the real solution of the cost of the living problem. But we have our doubts. The fact that animals do not cook their food may be matched by other things that man does and they do not. Neither do they use knives and forks. Must we return to our fingers also? Must civilization go with the cook? If so, it is probable her departure will be indefinitely postponed.—[Pittsburg Dispatch.]

HIS WIFE'S LAST WISH FULLY CARRIED OUT

Aged Glasgow Physician Risks Own Life to Fulfill Dying Request.

Glasgow, Ky., May 19.—The last earthly wish of Mrs. John Langley was carried out here when her husband, one of the oldest physicians in Barren county, with his own hands and at the risk of his own life, disinterred her disintegrating body from the grave in the yard of his home here and placing it in a wagon, started on his overland journey to Bowling Green, the childhood home of Mrs. Langley.

Several months ago Mrs. Langley died, after an illness extending through many years. The husband, after spending all he had of this world's goods in trying to save her life, stood by her to the last, obeying her every wish. A few minutes before she passed away she asked that her body be taken to Bowling Green for interment.

Dr. Langley was unable at that time to accompany the body, being ill himself, but had it buried near the home here. A few days ago he sent for an undertaker to come and remove the body. When the grave was opened it was found to be full of water, the body was disintegrating and the odor was so bad that the undertaker closed the grave and informed Dr. Langley that the body could not be moved.

The husband declared that his wife's last request should be granted if it cost him his life. He then opened the grave himself, made an opening in the earth beside the grave and ditched the water into the hole and with his own hands washed the face of the corpse, and wrapping the body, he placed it in a wagon and started on the threesome journey to the picturesque valleys of Warren county, where she longed to be buried.

Is there anything in all this world that is of more importance to you than good digestion? Food must be eaten to sustain life and must be digested and converted into blood. When the digestion fails, the whole body suffers. Chamberlain's Tablets are a rational and reliable cure for indigestion. They increase the flow of bile, purify the blood, strengthen the stomach, and tone up the whole digestive apparatus to a natural and healthy action. For sale by all dealers.

DECISION OF AN IMPORTANT CASE

Regarding the Work of Fiscal Courts.

HAVE NO POWER TO DELEGATE

To a Committee the Right to Make Contracts for a County.

MUST BE LET BY MAGISTRATES

Frankfort, Ky., May 19.—The Court of Appeals has decided a case of vital importance to the county fiscal courts of the State, holding that a fiscal court has no power to delegate to a committee the right to make contracts and agree on the amounts that shall be paid for bridges and other road improvements.

The case was Floyd county against the Oswego Bridge company, which came up from Floyd county. The fiscal court of that county appointed a committee not members of the court with full power to make contracts for the building of three iron bridges. The committee went ahead with the work, let the contracts to the Oswego company, which was the lowest bidder, the three bridges costing in round numbers $15,000. By the time the work was completed, the personnel of the fiscal court had changed and the new court refused to pay the $15,000 on the ground that the fiscal court had no ground to delegate its power to a committee and that the committee could not bind the county for any debt created by it. The lower court decided in favor of the bridge company. The county appealed and the higher court says the fiscal court is right and the county cannot be compelled to pay for the bridges under the circumstances.

The opinion says: "It may be a hardship on the bridge company to get no pay for its bridges, but that is the penalty of making a contract with a committee or corporation without inquiring into the power it has to make such a contract. The county will not be allowed to use these bridges without paying for them, however, and the bridge company may take down and remove the bridges and material used in their construction, as this is its only remedy under the law."

J. M. Howell, a popular druggist of Greensburg, Ky., says: "We use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in our household and know it is excellent." For sale by all dealers.

How to Cure Chronic Colds and Bronchitis

Bluevale, Ont., May 4, 1910. "I was sick for two years with a chronic cold and bronchitis and a consequent run-down condition. I received no benefit from doctors, and had to give up work. VINOL was recommended and from the second bottle I commenced to improve—I gained in weight and strength, my cold and bronchial trouble disappeared, and I am at work again. I want to recommend VINOL to anyone who is in need of such a medicine."—THOMAS HIGGINS.

It is the combined action of the curative elements of the cods' livers aided by the blood making and strength creating properties of tonic iron contained in VINOL which makes it so successful in curing stubborn colds and bronchitis. VINOL is a constitutional remedy for chronic coughs, colds, bronchitis and pulmonary troubles, not a palliative like cough syrups.

Try a bottle of VINOL. If you don't think it helped you, we will return your money.

DR. BELL'S ANTI-PAIN For Internal and External Pains.

Hartford Herald, Only $1 Year

Remedies are Needed

Were we perfect, which we are not, medicines would not often be needed. But since our systems have become weakened, impaired and broken down through indiscretions which have gone on from the early ages, through countless generations, remedies are needed to aid Nature in correcting our inherited and otherwise acquired weaknesses. To reach the seat of stomach weakness and consequent digestive troubles, there is nothing so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a glyceric compound, extracted from native medicinal roots—sold for over forty years with great satisfaction to all users. For Weak Stomach, Bilioussness, Liver Complaint, Pain in the Stomach after eating, Heartburn, Bad Breath, Belching of food, Chronic Diarrhea and other Intestinal Derangements, the "Discovery" is a time-proven and most efficient remedy.

The genuine has on its outside wrapper the Signature

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic medicine of known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

NOTICE, DEMOCRATS:
Democratic State Primary Election, Saturday, July 1.

Guess you might as well salt 'em
down in moth balls now.

One way to keep cool nowadays
is not to get into a heated discussion.

Verily, it will be a cold day—in fact, a long, cold season—when the Ice Trust gets knocked out.

They are now reserving to E. T.
Frank, who is said to be a candidate for the Republican nomination
for Governor as "Broncho's Ghost."

Under the old aphorism that the only good Indian is a dead one, it will be hard to believe that Diaz has actually resigned as President of Mexico and proof of his passing away has been established.

Our national capital and continues to be the hottest section of country. During the cool months they have "heated." Congressional disagreements and when summer comes they have "heated" normal.

That the election of U. S. Senator William L. Dyer, of Illinois, will again be investigated, and that a new investigation, assigns his almost certain election from the Senate, is the prevailing opinion in Washington.

Howe Lewis Lartram, of the Hartford Messenger wants to know why the case of this year's style of mens shoes, all have the tumor growing on top of the box toe. Probably to get away from the tongue,
so as to avoid serious complications.

Col. Roosevelt was presented the New York Board of Education with a painting entitled "Am I my Brother's Keeper?" A characteristic placard to hang right underneath it might be very aptly inscribed:
"Yes, sure, what made you bother
to ask the question?"

No, son, those particles flying in the air are not remnants of the Standard Oil Trust, being dissolved, but probably some of the dust intended for people's eyes in the aftermath of discussion of the decision of the Supreme Court, anent
"unreasonable" restraints of trade.

The scarcity of house flies so far this season is a matter of note. Usually at this point of the season looses are a-swarm with them, but in a great measure they are noticeably absent. Scientists and others posited on the matter are unable to account for Mr. Fly's delay in coming.

Ex-Senator J. C. S. Blackburn spoke in Owensboro Saturday afternoon, according to previous appointment, which had been much advertised. The city papers report it as an excellent speech—clean cut, unbiased and in behalf of a united Democracy. He was greeted by a large and enthusiastic crowd. He urged all Democrats to do their full duty in the coming primary election and to follow it up by a loyal support of the nominees. His speech was heartily received and did much to strengthen party interest.

Few people know how the news
gatherers for some of the big dailies
often "go to the front" and risk their lives in the discharge of their duties. Some of the pictures of the war in Mexico which we gaze upon with little interest were obtained
by the reporter, who generally carries his camera with him, while bullets were whizzing all around him.
The war correspondent, although not a professional soldier, often shares the welfare of the latter, and seldom gets credit for the part he takes in dishing up the news while it is "hot."

The latest scheme to get a lot of advertising for nothing seems to be manipulated by a small but well known Southern railroad. Its idea is to get the people to write to their relatives and friends who have gone
West and induce them to come back to the South, and it is estimated that in so doing, their return journey will take them over at least a portion of this road. Any portion of the South would be glad to have a return of its wanderers in other States, who are often tired of their experiment, but the scheme to get the newspapers to help a railroad
with which they have no business

dealings, free of cost, will probably fail.

A seeming humorous item reproduced in the Courier-Journal one day last week and credited to The Herald and later in the Cincinnati Enquirer and credited to the same source, was simply a reproduction
of the old joke of "Why is a newspaper like a woman?" to which the answer is: "Because every man should have one of his own and not be running after his neighbors." The credit was wrong. The Herald editor didn't write it. Away back tender steen or thirty years ago, when he began shoving a pencil and sticking type in order to eat and wear clothes, he remembers to have seen that joke floating through the press, and age has not blunted its excellent application. It was like meeting a boyhood friend again,
but—it wasn't ours.

LIGHTNING'S PRANKS IN McLEAN COUNTY

Barn of Jesse Whittaker at Nuckols Destroyed—Several Women Injured.

During the rain and electrical storm Saturday, the village of Nuckols, McLean county, was in the storm center, and lightning did considerable damage in and around the little town. The barn of Jesse Whittaker, who resides on the Hartford and Livermore road, about a mile from the village, was struck by lightning, and before the neighbors
could gather, the barn, two fine horses, several tons of hay and a large quantity of corn were destroyed, entailing a loss of something like $1,200. It is claimed he had no insurance.

Mrs. Tom Tucker was preparing dinner, when lightning struck her barn, breaking all of the window panes and the shock was so great that she was thrown against the stove with terrific force. Mrs. T.
Morgan was also shocked, but sustained no injuries. The window panes were shattered from the frames in the homes of Jack Ashby, J. F. Thomas and H. G. Taylor, besides those of Thomas Tucker and Mrs. Morgan.

Besides the slight injuries sustained by Mrs. Tucker, no person was injured by the pranks of the lightning.

BIG CONSPIRACY CHARGED IN SUIT

Against Lumber Trust by Government.

ALLEGED PLOT TO BLACKLIST

Concerns is Charged—Elaborate System to Maintain High Prices.

TRUST METHODS SHOWN UP

New York, May 20.—Sweeping charges of a gigantic conspiracy to maintain high prices, to blacklist concerns not regarded as "proper"
trade and to violate generally the Sherman anti-trust law, are made in a Government suit filed by Attorney General Wickersham in the United States Court here to-day
against the so-called Lumber trust.

Ten trade organizations and more than 150 individuals are named as defendants in this suit, which may be the first of several planned by the Department of Justice against combinations of retailers in staple commodities and the necessities of life to prevent the ultimate consumer from buying anywhere except from local retailers.

Attorney General Wickersham
and his special assistant, Clark Mc-Kercher, have devoted more than a year to gathering the evidence on which to-day's suit is based. This evidence includes copies of the alleged agreements, blacklists and reports of the various organizations,
branding wholesalers and retailers
who have dared to violate the rules of the association as "poachers,"
"mavericks," "scalpers" and "illegal shiffters," to whom "short shrift must be applied."

This is the Government's first anti-trust suit, conforming to the Supreme Court's Standard Oil decision, in that it alleges "undue and unreasonable" restraint of the trade of the consumer and the manufacturer. It is the evident purpose of the plea to confine the charge largely to that feature, small stress being placed upon the restraint of trade among the conspirators themselves.

The Government's suit is replete with sensational allegations, and it is asserted that builders and consumers of lumber the country over
are at the mercy of the retailers'
organizations in different sections of the United States.

The suit filed to-day is against
the Eastern States Retail Lumber Dealers' Association, which is the central body of nine local organizations, covering five States, the District of Columbia and the cities of Baltimore and Philadelphia.

The Government charges in brief
that by an elaborate system of blacklisting, not only individual consumers but some of the largest individual corporations have been prevented from dealing directly with wholesalers. By alleged unlawful agreements and acts, it is charged that all competition for the trade of the contractors, the builders, the manufacturers of finished lumber products, and the individual consumers, has been thrown entirely into the hands of the retailers in the Eastern States Retail Lumber Dealers' Association and its constituent organizations.

The Government's bill alleges that in some localities the wholesaler
selling to a consumer has either been heavily fined or expelled from the organization.

Officials of the Department of Justice regard the suit as the most important in principle of any yet undertaken by the Government against alleged conspiracies said to affect the cost of living.

It is believed that should the courts uphold the Government's contention that it is a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law to prevent the ultimate consumer from buying direct from the producer,
other suits will be started against combinations of retailers alleged to be in control of the marketing of many of the commodities of life.

The defendants named in the suit
and who are alleged to have conspired among themselves and, with the assistance of the National Wholesale Lumber Dealers' Association, have prevented wholesalers
from selling directly or indirectly to consumers, are:

The Eastern States Retail Lumber Dealers' Association, a New York corporation, with offices at No.
18 Broadway.

The New York Lumber Trade Association of New York City.

The Building Material Men's Association of West Chester county,

N. Y.

The Lumber Dealers' Association
of Connecticut.

The Massachusetts Retail Lumber
Dealers' Association.

The Lumber Dealers' Association
of Rhode Island.

The Retail Lumbermen's Association of Baltimore.

The officers and directors, trustees and members of the above are named as the individual defendants
as well as the officers and directors and members of the three following voluntary organizations:

The New Jersey Lumbermen's
Protective Association.

The Retail Lumbermen's Association of Philadelphia.

The Lumber Exchange of the District of Columbia.

The Government asks a permanent injunction restraining the defendants from continuing the conspiracy charged.

Declamatory Contest.

In the declamation contest at Dr.
Bean's Opera House Wednesday night, being a part of the closing exercises of Hartford College, Miss Beatrice Haynes won the gold medal as offering the best production. The judges were Mrs. John B. Wilson, Hartford; Hon. F. P. Moats, of Parkersburg, W. Va., and Prof. I.
S. Mason, Fordville. Owing to so many splendid efforts the judges
found it a difficult matter in awarding the medal. Miss Mary Elizabeth Felix won the gold medal for having obtained the highest general
average per cent. in her studies during the year's session, her average being 97.2-5 per cent. Miss Iris Elliott made second best, her average being 96 1/2 per cent. and Miss Mildred Elgin was third with 95.9-20 per cent. Mr. H. P. Taylor did the presentation act in the declamatory contest, and Mr. W. H. Barnes in the latter named event, both making graceful and appropriate speeches.

FINE Mattings and Rugs

In this department we feel that we are entitled to your patronage because of the qualities we are offering and the close prices we are making. Everything we purchase in this line is from the world's best mills and strictly first grade. A little of the value can easily be taken from the floor coverings by the manufacturers skimping the widths or quality
and still they retain the appearance of full value, but the wear will tell the true story. We protect you by guaranteeing the qualities to be the best obtainable and give you full measure in every way.

Fancy Japanese Floor Mattings

Fine weaves, smooth finish in a nice variety of conventional and floral patterns. The Mattings we handle are chosen for their serviceability as well as for appearance, and make fine floor coverings, especially for the warm months. We buy very close and offer an exceptional value in wide Matting at 25c per yard.

Fancy Japanese Matting Rug 9x12 at $3.50.

Fine Quality Tapestry Rug 9x15 at $9.75.

The best procurable weave and one which wears like iron. A similar quality would cost much more elsewhere.

Extra Quality Tapestry Rug 9x12 at $13.50.

Splendid values in beautiful designs and shadings, made of the finest selected worsted yarns, woven clear through the body of rug. The wearing quality cannot be excelled and the shadings are much deeper and richer than in inferior rugs.
Smith's Saxony Axminster Rug 9x12 at $18.75.
Beautiful designs and best quality.

SHE SOON WAS SORRY SHE HAD TAKEN DOSE To Destroy Her Own Life—Saved by Doctor's Quick Work.

The Owensboro Inquirer says:

Mrs. William W. Perkins, who resides with her husband on Montgomery avenue, near Wing avenue,
in the east end of the city, undertook to end her life Sunday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock by the sulcide route.

Mrs. Perkins is about 35 years of age, and is the mother of one child,
a little daughter. It is understood that all has not been going well
with her and her husband, and recently they have had frequent quarrels, so it is alleged. This trouble so heavily preyed on her mind that she finally decided to shuffle off this mortal coil. Accordingly, while her husband was lying on the floor asleep, Mrs. Perkins saw her opportunity and on going to the cupboard, she secured the laudanum
bottle and swallowed its contents,
about one ounce of the drug. Mrs.
Perkins also took one-half ounce of bromidia. As soon as the poison began to take effect, Mrs. Perkins' nerve failed her. She immediately aroused her husband, and told him what she had done. Mr. Perkins saw that his wife was in a drowsy
condition, and immediately secured
the assistance of Dr. Lambert, who,
at that time, was at the municipal water works.

The prompt arrival of Dr. Lambert saved the woman's life, as she was in a heavy stupor, and regarded as critically ill. Dr. Lambert applied the stomach pump, and after administering to her the required
antidotes, soon had the woman out of danger.

Mrs. Perkins was resting well today, and it is not believed that she will attempt to repeat her rash act
at any time soon.

SULPHUR SPRINGS.

May 22.—We had a fine rain Saturday and every growing thing is very much refreshed. Corn planting will be stopped for a few days.
Wheat looking fine. Very little tobacco set. Plants plentiful but small. Taking all things into consideration, prospects for a good crop

are bright.

Our neighboring village Jingo has a new merchant and we hope he may do well. He comes from Davidson Station on the I. C. R. R. and has the appearance of being a fine man.

There was a very pretty wedding
at the residence of George Peach Sunday at 3 o'clock p. m. when his daughter Mary was married to Mr.
Caleb Bean, one of the most prosperous farmers of Sulphur Springs.
Quite a large gathering of relatives
and friends were present to witness the ceremony which was impressively performed by Rev. Joe Acton.
After many congratulations, many hand-shakes and words of encouragement, they departed for the home of the groom, accompanied by the good wishes of all present. Your humble scribe wishes them a long,
prosperous and happy life.

CENTERTOWN.

May 22.—Mr. J. E. Johnson's examining trial, which was set for last Saturday to be tried in Esq.
Jackson's court, was set forward until the 24th of June on account of Commonwealth witness Josh Crowe
not being able to attend court.

Mr. Roll, Sheriff of Muhlenberg county, was here one day
last week on business.

Miss Geneva Curtis, of Rockport,
who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs.
T. M. Hatcher, of this place, has returned to her home.

Mrs. J. Carl Jackson, who has been sick for several days, is able to be out again.

Mr. C. H. Chapman and wife, of near McHenry, visited his parents
here last Saturday and Sunday.

DUKEHURST.

May 22.—Tobacco plants have not been doing very well on account of dry weather. I think they will take a start now and a big crop
is expected.

Mrs. J. N. Jeffries, of this place,
and three daughters, Myrtle, Essie
and Little Tena, returned Sunday
from a week's visit at Bell's Run.

Dukehurst is on a boom. We have a grocery here which we have been needing for some time.

This would be a convenient place
for a blacksmith shop.

Mr. J. R. Hickey made a business trip to Hartford Saturday.

Mr. John T. Lowe, who has been ill for some time of measles, is able to be out again.

The Owensboro District Sunday School and Epworth League Conference will be held at Beaver Dam, Ky., from May 29 to June 2, inclusive. A fine program has been arranged and it will be a very interesting session. The exercises will embrace excellent talks and addresses by noted speakers and others which will be both interesting and instructive. There should be a large attendance.

The Herald inadvertently overlooked the recent entertainment given by Hon. and Mrs. H. P. Taylor in honor of Mr. Helm Walker, of Louisville, who was visiting them. Those present were: Misses Alice Keown, Mary E. Felix, Katie Pendleton, Lella Glenn, Mildred Elgin and Annie Allen Elgin; Messrs. Helm Walker, Henry Griffin, Harold Holbrook, Estill Barnett and Trimble Pendleton.

The following were the graduates at the closing exercises of Hartford College last week: Misses Alice Taylor, Frona King, Myrtle Williams; Messrs. Devert Moseley, Rhea Hatcher. The presentation of diplomas was by Judge J. S. Glenn in a very fitting manner. The whole week's exercises were largely attended and bespoke the interest which the people feel in our city's noted institution of learning, Hartford College.

FIRST WOUND OF CIVIL WAR

Was Received by An Owensboro Man.

IS STILL LIVING IN THE CITY

He Got Stabbed With a Bayonet in a Skirmish At Baltimore.

FIRST MAN WAS KILLED THERE

The Owensboro Messenger says: H. E. Smith, a citizen of Owensboro and a veteran of the Union army, claims the distinction of being the first man wounded during the civil war. The account given by Mr. Smith of the occurrence, is in brief, as follows:

When President Lincoln issued his first call for volunteers, he joined the Sixth Massachusetts regiment and in a very short time the command was started for the Southland. The troops were on a special train, the officers occupying the coaches immediately behind the engine, while the rest of the soldiers were in the coaches on the rear of the train.

It was necessary for the train to pass through Baltimore, and when it reached that point, the engine and the coaches in which the officers were riding were cut off from the rest of the train, and were taken about a mile down the track. The soldiers, realizing that something out of the ordinary was occurring, unloaded from the cars, and as soon as they stepped on the ground, they were charged by a mob of Southern sympathizers.

A hand-to-hand fight ensued and in a moment's time Mr. Smith had received a long slash from a bayonet down his right leg. He fell to the ground, and in a moment the lifeless body of the first soldier killed in the civil war fell across his body.

Following the engagement, Mr. Smith was cared for by Union people in Baltimore, and was later sent to the hospital, where he suffered with the injury for some weeks. On regaining his health, he again enlisted in the Union army and served during the remainder of the war.

Mr. Smith has a bronze medal, which shows that he was a member of the Sixth Massachusetts. The fact that he was the first soldier injured in the civil war was brought out in an address made by the Hon. T. S. Pettit, at the Grand theater, when Comrade Smith was introduced to the audience, and the story of the Baltimore mob was told.

WHY YOUNG PEOPLE OFTEN ANTAGONIZE EACH OTHER

Margaret E. Saagster says, in the course of an interesting article in the June Woman's Home Companion:

"Two households may stand side by side on the same street, two families live within hailing distance of one another for years in the same community, and yet have opposite tastes, sentiments and convictions. The children of each growing up together may marry and, until they reach the period of new adjustment, never suspect how antagonistic has been their early training. This is one reason why the first year of marriage is so beset with trials and thorns. Everybody knows that until people actually dwell under the same roof, they do not mutually become acquainted. A single week spent with a friend at a house-party does more to promote intimacy or indifference than years of superficial social intercourse. The touch-and-go meetings incidental to teas and receptions are the merest suggestions of personality, but when one sits day after day beside the fire or at the table with a neighbor, each ceasing to be on guard, real understanding begins. Even correspondence which, to a degree, is in the nature of revelation does not make people so well acquainted and is by no means so true a test of disposition and temperament as the test is of living together. During courtship and betrothal an engaged pair are on probation. Without effort each displays qualities of charm that cannot fail to be attractive. The most ordinary speech has a flavor of compliment. The future husband and wife are walking through a land of dreams. Shall the dreams come true? They surely will if on both sides there are fixed principles of honor, justice and fidelity."

POWERS OF STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION

The Elizabethtown News says: The State Board of Equalization has increased the valuation of Kentucky $22,000,000. By what authority has this been done? The State Board has exceeded the purpose for which it was created and has levied a tax upon the people of Kentucky. If it has the right to increase the valuation $22,000,000 it has the right to double the entire assessment and thus make the people pay twice as much tax. No one can deny its right to double valuation if it is conceded it has the right to raise it $22,000,000. The Constitution gives to the Legislature only the right to levy taxes upon the people of the State, yet under Gov. Wilson's administration the State Board of Equalization has usurped the rights of the Legislature in order to increase the revenues of the State. The State Board of Equalization grew out of the fact that some counties gave in their property too high while others gave it in too low. The bill was framed and passed while Gen. Fayette Hewitt, of this county, was Auditor. It has no other function and was created for no other purpose except to equalize. Unless it can be held down to the purposes for which it was established, it should be abolished. If it raised a few millions this year it may raise many more millions next year and there is no limit to the extent it may go. As it is, thousands of poor people in the State are forced under its present exactions to pay taxes on more property than they are worth.

DOWNWARD COURSE

Fast Being Realized by Hartford People.

A little backache at first. Daily increasing till the back is lame and weak. Urinary disorders quickly follow. Dropsy and finally Bright's disease.

This is the downward course of kidney ills. Don't take this course. Hartford residents should profit by the following experience.

George F. Mergerle, River street, Cloverport, Ky., says: "For three months I was unable to work, owing to disordered kidneys. The passages of the kidney secretions were painful and my feet became so badly swollen that I was unable to put on my shoes. There was a dull ache in the small of my back, which extended into my head, and although I tried a number of remedies, I was unable to find relief until Doan's Kidney Pills came to my attention. I used them according to directions and in six weeks I was entirely free from kidney trouble. I attribute my good health solely to the curative powers of Doan's Kidney Pills."

MORE URGENT AND ANTI-TRUST

Legislation Passed Than Ever Before.

REPUBLICANS IN A QUANDARY

Because of Their Friendly Attitude Towards Big Corporations.

WHAT THE FREE LIST BILL IS (By Clyde H. Tavenner—Special to The Herald.)

Washington, May 19.—In six weeks the Democratic House of Representatives has passed more progressive and anti-trust legislation than the Republicans passed in fourteen years' administration of that branch of Congress.

The achievement up-to-date includes the passage of a bill providing for the publicity of campaign contributions before instead of after elections; the election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people; reciprocity with Canada and the farmers' free list bill, with other similar legislation to follow promptly.

Agitation for much of this legislation has been going on for years. The Republicans heard the demand of the people for relief, but could not enact such legislation as has been passed by the Democratic House because they had for years been receiving enormous campaign contributions from the tariff trusts and other interests which are opposed to progressive legislation of the character passed by the Democrats.

The Republicans have not only been obliged not to interfere with the monopolies and profits of the tariff trusts, but because of having accepted campaign funds from the great corporations, they have been practically compelled to extend to them immunity from investigation as well as prosecution.

More than a score of resolutions providing for the investigation of the steel trust, the sugar trust and the other big industrial combines were introduced in every session of Congress while the Republicans were in power. These resolutions, one and all, were referred to committees that had been especially packed by Speaker Cannon with men friendly to special privileges, with the result that all such resolutions died in committee.

Now it is different. For the first time since the trust question has been acute, the House of Representatives has an anti-trust majority.

The result is that the big committees are manned by men who are free to go ahead and investigate, and if the evidence warrants, to take the proper steps toward bringing about the prosecution of illegal combinations in existence in restraint of trade.

For the first time in a good many years the Capitol of the United States will soon be the scene of honest investigations of the industrial trusts of the country.

Henceforth it has been impossible for the Government to control the trusts because the trusts controlled the Government. Now it is to be determined whether the Government of the people or special privilege shall occupy the saddle.

What the Free List Bill Is.

Upon close investigation the "Farmers' Free List" bill becomes a mighty interesting measure. It untaxes many articles the farmers use, but it means about as much to all other consumers. It puts 100 articles of common use on the free list and it is estimated that it will save the public some $300,000,000. The measure won't hit the revenue hard, either. The tariff is nearly prohibitive on the 100 articles concerned, so that the custom gets only $1,500,000 from this source.

Most of the Republican members of the House of Representatives who voted against reciprocity sought to defend their votes by declaring the measure was against the best interests of the farmers, and that as they pride themselves upon being friends of the farmers at every turn in the road, they could not bring themselves to vote for the reciprocity bill.

Then came the Farmers' Free List

bill, which untaxed agricultural implements and nearly everything the farmer uses. Here was a golden opportunity for the friends of the farmers!

But, lo and behold, when it came time to vote, 109 Republicans who had been so loud in proclaiming their affection for the farmers, voted against the Farmers' Free List bill.

The Herald's Special Selections. THE BIRTHDAY OF THE BIBLE.

In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God.—St. John 1. 1.

It breathed in the primal chaos, It shone in the first great sun, It pulsed in the glowing ether or ever a world was done— And through all the empty eons when never a star had place, It swept in eternal grandeur across all the fields of space.

The hour that the first sky glowed with silver and crimson bars, It rose in the marvel-chorus—the song of the morning stars; Tremendous and deep and mighty, the Word was the soul of things Ere brother made war on brother or folk knew of slaves and kings.

For far in the outer splendor, where systems are dimmed to haze And orbs that we never dream of go spinning their nights and days, The Word is the law forever, and was ere the birth of time; It lived in the light eternal through centuries all sublime.

And we with our books and letters, and we with our codes and creeds, We dim it in clumsy language, we hush it with barren deeds; Full fat with the pride of being, we read with our narrowed eyes The Truth as we fain would spell it—we puny ones, overwise.

And how may we read or hear it —we quibblers of things and deeds?

And how may we sense its forming forever to fit our needs?

We babble of plan and purpose, we question of What and Why, Nor read in the apple blossom, nor see in the star-strewn sky!

THE BUSY MAN'S CREED.

I believe in the stuff I am handing out, in the firm I am working for, and my ability to get results. I believe that honesty can be passed out to honest men by honest methods. I believe in working, not weeping; in boosting, not knocking, and in the pleasure of my job; I believe a man gets what he goes after, that one deed done to-day is worth a dozen to-morrow, and that no man is down and out until he has lost faith in himself. I believe in to-day and the work I am doing, in to-morrow and the work I have to do, and the sure reward which the future holds. I believe in courtesy, in kindness, in generosity, in good cheer, in friendship and in honest competition. I believe there is something doing, somewhere, for every man ready to do it.—[Hollo (P. L.) Unexpected Guests

The farmer and his wife were about to sit down to a cold supper when they saw some old friends driving towards the house.

The good wife was equal to the occasion—thanks to her New Perfection Oil Cook-stove.

She had it lit in a moment, and her guests hardly were seated on the porch before a hearty hot meal was ready for the table—sausages and eggs and long rashers of streaky bacon, and rolls just crisped in the oven and fresh coffee—and the hostess herself as cool and neat as if she had not been near the kitchen.

She never could have managed it with an old-fashioned range. The New Perfection is the quickest, most convenient and best cooker on the market.

Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners, with long, turquoise blue enameled chimneys. Headsomely finished throughout. The 2- and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without a cabinet top, which is fitted with drop shelves, towel racks, etc.

THE BENEFITS OF STATE NORMAL

At Bowling Green Aptly Described

BY SUPERINTENDENT LEACH
Who Writes of Late Convention of County Superintendents.

OHIO COUNTY AT THE FRONT

The Fifth Annual Conclave of the County School Superintendents of the Western Kentucky State Normal Division met in Bowling Green, May 3, 4 and 5. To say it was a success is to put it mildly, but to say that it was a success—a grand success in every particular—does not make it too strong. The writer had the pleasure of attending both this year and last. Last year was a great meeting, but this year was a much greater one in every way.

The work that is being done in this school is wonderful and far reaching. Men and women from all parts of Western Kentucky are attending this great school, where they are taught how to teach school; where they are made to see what real teaching is. Perhaps it would be well to explain what is being done in the Normal, that the public may the more fully appreciate the merits of the school.

It is the purpose of those who are in charge of the school to teach young men and young women the real science of teaching, to ultimately make a great professional force for the entire State. The

HENRY LEACH,
Supt. Ohio County Schools.

writer is of the opinion that it is just as necessary for the child in the most remote rural district to be taught by a good teacher as it is for the children of our graded schools, and this is what this school is trying to do—train a good teacher for all.

Tuition is free to all, because it is desired that all have the privilege of attending at as small expense as possible.

Some of the best men and women of this State and of other States are in charge of the work and each one of the many teachers is fully alive to the responsibility devolving upon him.

Then another remarkable thing in this school is the enthusiasm which permeates the entire teaching force and student body. You feel and know at once that it is a real, a moving force that carries you forward, willingly and resistlessly, to better things, to higher ideals of life. It produces a condition in the mind in which one can, in the imagination, see far enough into the future when the conditions surrounding child life will be almost perfect, resulting in a higher and nobler manhood and womanhood and consequently a greater country, for upon the greatness of the people depends the greatness of the Nation.

Men and women are trained here to be worthy moral and social leaders as well as intellectual leaders.

There may be some question as to whether it is right to spend so much in the Normal, but if you could see what is being done, and then go out into the schools of the county and State, as the writer has, where it is plain to see that it is returned directly to the people, dollar for dollar, in the education of their children, it would not be a question any longer.

It would be an injustice to the people of Ohio county to neglect to say the Normal is rapidly coming to the front. It has one hundred and sixty pupils enrolled in that work and at its head is our own Ohio county boy, W. S. Taylor, who is just as full of enthusiasm and work as he is of love for his home people and good schools.

All Ohio county pupils stand well with the faculty and one of them, Leslie Greer, pitches ball just as well as he teaches school or prepares his work for the class room.

The Superintendent and his little son, Hinton, were delightfully entertained while in Bowling Green by the Ohio county delegation, for which we wish to return our thanks.

HENRY LEACH, Supt.

HOPEWELL.

May 22.—Mr. Hannibal Taylor, of Wellington, Kan., died at the residence of Mr. Walter Bennett, Tuesday, May 16, of stomach and heart trouble. Mr. Taylor was born in Ohio county, November 23, 1843. About the year 1865 he professed religion and joined the church here and in about 1870 married and moved to Kansas. He was a successful farmer and lived his religion until death. He leaves one daughter, two sons and a host of relations to mourn his loss. His body was taken back to Kansas for burial.

Mr. Sherman Taylor, of near Cromwell, who has been in Mississippi teaching, has returned home and is visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Taylor.

Mr. Alney Ford, of St. Louis, Mo., spent last week here with Mr. Thomas Ford and his sister, Mrs. Joe Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Taylor, of Wysox, visited Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Coleman last Sunday.

SUNNYDALE.

May 22.—Farmers are much benefited by the recent rain.

Wheat, grass and oats look well in this part of the neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, of Magan, visited Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Duke at Palo Sunday.

Mrs. Verna Wright, of Owensboro, visited Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Lowe last week.

The roads in this community need working very much. We hope the grader will come in right away and fix the bad places.

Who can beat our little town? Two stores, one grist mill, one blacksmith shop, post-office and a big trade.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Smith, of this place, visited Mr. B. Flener, at Palo, last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson Myers' little child will be buried at Sunnydale cemetery to-day. They live at Broadway.

Sextet—Misses Bettie Ward, Jessie and Mabel Park, Messrs. S. P. Sandefur, O. D. Carson and Joe Chapman. The debate we were to have had the last meeting. Paper. Criticism. Reading of program.

ELLYDIA FOSTER, Sec'y.

N. B.—In the absence of Prof. T. H. Smith at our last meeting, we received a treat in the way of a lecture, of Hartford, Ky., on his favorite subject, "Love is King," which was highly prized and much appreciated by all present.

Dr. Bell's Antiseptic Salve is guaranteed for better, ringworm, eczema, chapped hands and lips, running sores, ulcers and in fact all skin diseases. Good to use after shaving. 25c a box.

MAXWELL.

May 20.—Sunday School at the M. E. Church here is progressing nicely.

Miss Louise Riley, of Maxwell, is visiting relatives and friends in Owensboro.

Mr. Rowan Crowe and Miss Ella Crowe, of Maxwell, visited in Owensboro recently.

Mrs. Abbie Jolly, of this place, is very ill.

Mr. J. D. Crowe, of Maxwell, went to Hartford Tuesday.

You would not suffer one day for five times that amount. Then try Sutherland's Eagle Eye Salve. We guarantee it to cure. It's painless and harmless.

Many meetings of the Standard Oil directors will be held, according to William Rockefeller, before the company will be ready to announce its plans for dissolution in accordance with the Supreme Court's mandate.

MAY TERM CRIMINAL COURT IN SESSION

At Owensboro—Important Murder Case on Hand—Other Cases.

The May term of the Davless criminal court was convened in Owensboro by Judge Birkhead on Monday morning and will probably be in session two weeks.

The most important and interesting case that will be taken up by the body and which will probably be tried at this term of the court is that against Mrs. Louella Lynch, wife of George Lynch, who is now in the Owensboro jail on the charge of murdering Ambie Buck, her twenty-four-year-old son-in-law, and the husband of her sixteen-year-old daughter.

The murder occurred only a few weeks ago, and from the evidence that was developed in the examining trial, was one of the most cold-blooded and atrocious killings that has occurred in that county in a great number of years. Mrs. Lynch went to Buck's home with a shotgun and when Buck came to the door in answer to the knock of her husband, whom she had forced at the point of the gun to accompany her, she fired the contents of the gun into his side.

The first plea of the woman after the shooting was that she had shot in self defense, as she believed at the time that Buck was endeavoring to secure a gun and shoot her. Since the death of the young man, and since the examining trial, Mrs. Lynch has been showing indications of either actual or feigned insanity.

There are sixteen others confined in the jail who were bound over to the grand jury by examining courts and who were unable to execute bond for their appearance. In addition to those confined in the jail there are several others who have been held over to the grand jury, but who have given satisfactory bond for their appearance and who were released from custody. The grand jury will investigate each of these cases, and where sufficient evidence is found, will return indictments against the accused.

BEAVER DAM.

May 22.—The commencement exercises of our school closed Friday. Six received diplomas as graduates. They were Messrs. Ernest Taylor, Clifford Taylor, Noble Renter and Misses Daule Taylor, Mary Stewart and Addie Belle Taylor. Young Shultz brothers have taught a very interesting school and are well liked in our town. We have not heard whether they have applied for the fall term or not.

Dr. Dick Tilford and family, of Morganfield, Ky., were the guests of V. M. Stewart and family last week.

We received a call from Miss Katie Thompson, of Fordville, who was in town attending the commencement. Miss Katie is a daughter of Mr. Ed Porter Thompson, the historian of the Orphan Brigade.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Chapman, of Cool Springs, spent a day in town last week with their daughter, Mrs. Mate Hunley.

We hear wheat has been injured to some extent by green bugs. Insects are also playing havoc with the gardens. No wonder this is the case, for the once familiar song of Bob White on the wheat field fence is no longer heard. The hunter with his gun and dog has almost wiped that beautiful bird out of existence and unless the law-makers pass some law for the protection of our birds, the quail will soon be a thing of the past. Every farmer knows that every species of bird is diminishing and at the same time insects which destroy fruit of all kinds and various kinds of crops are on the increase. Unless some new plan for their extermination is devised, fruit will soon be a thing of the past.

Mrs. Nora Gray and son, of Louisville, were visiting Mrs. Lizzie Taylor last week.

Miss Marie Morgan, of Nortonville, was visiting Miss Myrl Miller last week.

Mr. John Taylor, of Princeton, Ky., is visiting his brother, H. D. Taylor.

Mrs. W. R. Chapman is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Fred Taylor, and children, in Princeton, Ky., this week.

Mr. G. B. Likens, Ohio county's candidate for Democratic nomination for Secretary of State will go to Louisville next Friday, the occasion being a meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee and likewise the meeting of the Sub Committee on arrangements for the primary.

Mr. John Daniel and family visited relatives at Olston a few days the first of the week.

KENTUCKY NEWS NOTES.

According to a Government survey, which has just been made, Maxey's Knob is the highest point in Hart county. It is 780 feet above sea level.

The Modern Woodmen of Summer Shade, Barren county, are preparing to give a grand picnic and log-rolling at that place July 4. Elaborate arrangements are being made for the entertainment of the visitors.

C. Julian Stafford, wanted in Mt. Sterling on the charge of obtaining goods on false pretenses, surrendered to Deputy Sheriff Neal Gullfoyle, who took his bond in the sum of $500, and Stafford went on East.

The famous Peacock broodmare belonging to C. E. Jordan, of Oil City, Barren county, died last week in foaling. This was one of the most noted mares in Southern Kentucky and was valued at several thousand dollars.

John Watkins, who was arrested near Campton, on the charge of assaulting Mary King, the fourteen-year-old daughter of Thomas King, was given an examining trial, and being unable to execute a bond, was remanded to jail.

For the purpose of devising a uniform plan of instruction for the teachers' institutes, Superintendent of Public Instruction Regensten has called a meeting of the professional institute workers of the State to be held at Frankfort May 31.

Owing to the scarcity of deck-hands the Green river packets are greatly delayed and are encountering much trouble in loading and unloading their freight. Almost the entire crew, from mato down to the porter, are being pressed into service.

One of the largest crops of Kentucky bluegrass seed in years is indicated for this season, according to reports. Farmers say that only a small amount of seed has been sown for tobacco and that the bluegrass seed yield bids fair to be the best in years.

James Trimble, son of Sehorn Trimble, of Lacy Creek, near Campton, was arrested on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses from the Farmers and Traders' Bank of that city. Trimble is accused of writing a check on the Hazel Green Bank and signing the name of his father to it.

Numerous calls have been received in Kentucky from Arkansas, Georgia and Alabama for good teachers for the coming year. The salaries offered are said to be good ones and a large number of teachers in Barren and the adjoining counties are preparing to take up the work in other States in the early fall.

Come to Greenville, N. M.

A former Ohio countian says: Greenville Valley has become famous as a farming country, as there has just been a fine crop harvested of oats, corn, maize, sorghum, cane, rye, barley and potatoes. The good crops are causing the country to settle up faster than was ever known before. There has been an immigrant car on the side track at Greenville every day for the past three weeks. Still there is room for more. There are still free homes in from two to five miles of Greenville.

Come to Greenville, N. M., the land of sunshine, where the summers are cool and pleasant, where a sunstroke was never known, where the soil is deep and fertile, where water is soft and pure and can be had at from 10 to 100 feet, where stock gets fat eating the native grasses, where you can get a Government homestead of 160 acres for $36 or 320 acres for $62, where hundreds of families have found good homes, where there are 10,000 free homes for others, where choice claims are within two miles of a railroad, where coal is near by, hence cheap, where the tide of immigration is turning, where land values are rapidly rising.

Come and see, if possible. If you can't come, let your wants be made known by writing us. We take pleasure in answering all inquiries.

Yours truly,
J. M. FERGUSON.
